Brandon

As we discussed I was very impressed with the way you handled this situation

You presented multiple potential solutions, ultimately the one that we will go with, and positioned/ tested the waters with the broker, in a way that gave us direction and maneuverability that was just first rate

Better damn impressive actually and clarifies that you have learned your craft well, and that we made a fantastic decision when we moved you down to the ATL

Have an awesome weekend and Thank You!

I wanted to thank all of you once again for your participation in finding a solution to this problem. As we stand today, we have a solid plan of attack that will benefit all parties. I'm confident that Gwinett will be more than satisfied with what MetLife can offer for solutions.

With that being said, our customer call that was scheduled for this afternoon has been postponed until next week.

Once this call takes place, I will write again to confirm resolution.

Thanks again for all of your hard work.

Have a great weekend!
